Disability Services

Disability is defined by the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 as "a physical or mental impairment that substantially limits one or more major life activities." An individual may also qualify as disabled if he/she has had an impairment in the past or is seen as disabled based on a personal or group standard or norm. Such impairments may include physical, sensory, and cognitive or intellectual impairments. Mental disorders (also known as psychiatric or psychosocial disability) and various types of chronic disease may also be considered qualifying disabilities. A disability may occur during a person's lifetime or may be present from birth.

The Weill Cornell Medical College’s (which includes the Medical College and Graduate School of Medical Sciences) Disability Services are dedicated to providing equal educational opportunities for students with disabilities. Federal law states that no qualified student will be excluded, denied participation or subjected to discrimination from any program or activity.

Dr. Dana Zappetti, Associate Dean for Student Affairs manages all curricular, academic and student affairs-related aspects of the student’s needs by working with faculty and administrators to provide services to students with disabilities in addition to assisting the school in meeting its compliance obligations.

Accommodation Requests and Review Process Guidelines

- A student must submit a written request describing the disability and/or condition and the type of accommodations being requested. The school's obligation to provide accommodations is not triggered until the disabled individual makes his or her needs known.

- A student must provide disability documentation supporting his/her need for accommodations that meets Cornell guidelines from a certified medical practitioner. Documentation must be sufficient to establish that the requested accommodation is appropriate for the student's condition. Documentation is not accepted from family members.

- A student must submit information from previously attended post-secondary institutions describing accommodations approved and used.

- A student must submit letters of approval of accommodations from testing agencies.

- Dr. Zappetti, in conjunction with an advisory group from the school, has responsibility for determining the acceptability of documentation and reserves the right to require additional information. The school maintains the right to deny documentation that does not verify a student's disability or justify the need for reasonable accommodations. The school also maintains the option of seeking a second, professional opinion regarding documentation presented to verify disabilities. Students may appeal accommodations decisions.

- The school may request additional documentation from the student upon finding that the student's original documentation is insufficient and may choose to provide temporary accommodations while the student gathers the requested documentation.
• Once the requests have been reviewed and approved by Dr. Zappetti and the Disability Services Advisory Committee, Dr. Zappetti will then work with faculty and administrators to determine what accommodations are necessary.

• Documentation accepted by Dr. Zappetti is valid as long as a student is continuously enrolled at the school. However, if there is a break in the student's enrollment, s/he may need to present updated documentation to Dr. Zappetti in order to receive disability services. If additional accommodations are requested, additional documentation may be needed.

• All documentation of disabilities is received and held solely by Dr. Zappetti. Documentation is treated as confidential. Generally, no documentation is released to anyone outside of Dr. Zappetti’s office without the student’s informed and written consent. Documentation is destroyed six years after the last semester the student is enrolled.
